CALL TO COLORS SENT BY FRANCE TO GENDARMES

First Report Of Actual Move For Mobilization Is Made

PURPOSE UNKNOWN

Discuss Plans To Be Carried Out After May 1 By France.

Paris, April 18.—Gendarmes at Lille belonging to classes 1918 and 1919 have been called to the colors by the war office, according to Le Matin's correspondent at Lille.

This is the first report of any actual move by the government for mobilization although it is possible that the classes were called out for the annual maneuvers.

(Note: While France is getting her military machine ready, primarily to be prepared for warlike moves on Germany if she does not meet the reparations demand on May 1, this military preparedness presumably has another purpose namely that of meeting possible labor demonstrations on May Day.)

Marshal Foch, General Weygand, his personal aide, General Baut, his chief of staff and other military leaders this morning conferred at the foreign office with Minister Longchamp and financial and economic experts discussing details of the plan to be carried out on or after May 1, if Germany again defaults.

No Need for Haste

Pertinax pointed out today that there is no need for haste, adding that the allied conference here early in May should find a completed project awaiting merely the final approval of the various governments. That conference also is expected to deal with the mandate question, notably with the controversy over the island of Yap. Greek and Turkish affairs also will be taken up, as will be the question of an American separate peace with Germany. Pertinax says that tasks of the conferences will be much easier if America is represented.

The reparations commission today began fixing the various rates of exchange at which war damages should be charged. German experts were invited to take part in these discussions.

Ex-President Poincare, writing in Le Matin today says:

"The Germans are not disposed to fulfill a single one of their obligations in good faith. Therefore, if they wish to renew the conversations with us we should first obtain guarantees, which means the Rhur valley, then we can talk."

LeMatin's Berlin correspondent today expressed the belief that the United States favors the new German proposals. He adds that he understands Loring Dresel, the American charge at Berlin is already acquainted with these proposals.

IRISH LEADERS IN CONFERENCE TALK OLD WORLD AFFAIRS

Cicago, April 18.—Five thousand men and women, including every Irish leader of note in the United States, met here today for the first national convention of the American association for the recognition of the Irish republic, which will seek America's aid in Ireland's fight for separation from British rule.

The convention was called to order sharply at 10 o'clock the falling of the gavel being followed immediately by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the convention emmase.

The convention began its real work after the invocation delivered by Monsignor P. J. O'Donnell when the report of the credentials committee and the appointment of the committee on rules followed.

PREDICT FROST MONDAY NIGHT IN GREENE COUNTY WILL TAKE LAST OF YEAR'S FRUIT

There was no frost in Greene County Sunday night, but a frost is anticipated for Monday according to County Farm Agent Ford S. Prince.

Sunday was one of the worst April days this county has seen for years. A heavy downpour that started about 11 o'clock Saturday night, continued with unabated ferocity until Sunday morning. All day Sunday there was a cold drizzle which at times turned to snow or sleet.

Fortunately Sunday night was cloudy which prevented a frost although the thermometer dropped to the freezing point. Although Monday

JAPANESE DIVIDED ON YAP MANDATE

Tokio, April 18.—A sharp division of opinion in government circles as to what attitude should be adopted with regard to the American note on mandates is reported by close observers of the situation, and an influential group, it is said, insisting that Japan should maintain her stand on the award made by the supreme council at Paris.

The JiJi Shimpou, in an editorial article, expresses the opinion that Japan will reply negatively to the note laying stress on the contention that the supreme council's decision in awarding the mandate for the former German islands in the north Pacific to Japan was an agreement collateral to the peace decision regarding the distribution of the German warships. Moreover it notes that the United States failed to file a protest when the mandate was published in May 1919.

The Kokumin Shimbun expresses belief that Japan will seek to satisfy America by settling the controversy over the island of Yap separately.

The stand point of those who believe Japan should stand upon the council's decision is voiced by Professor Uesugi of the Imperial University in an article in which he declares that should Japan be forced to comply with the American demand it would be the greatest national disgrace, since the return of the Liao-Tung Peninsula to China under the pressure of the European powers.

The fact that Barger was gassed overseas is believed to have hastened his death. His body will be shipped to Hamilton where interment will be made.

PRISONER UNDER SENTENCE OF DEATH DIES IN HOSPITAL

Tuberculosis Saves Man From Electrocution At Columbus.

Columbus, O., April 18.—Nelson J. Barger, 22, Butler county prisoner in the penitentiary, who although sentenced to be electrocuted one year ago and was granted 4 stays of execution is dead. Death due to tuberculosis, occurred in the prison hospital.

Barger, a veteran of the recent world war, was convicted of first degree murder for killing a special policeman at Hamilton. He was granted two reprieves by the Butler county appellate court, one by former Governor Cox until March 1 and one by Governor Davis until Sept. 20 next.

The fact that Barger was gassed overseas is believed to have hastened his death. His body will be shipped to Hamilton where interment will be made.

TO DEPORT FORTY UNDESIRABLE 'REDS'

The passports have now been viseed, it was announced.

ILLINOIS AND INDIANA HARD HIT BY STORM

Crops Virtually Destroyed In Many Sections.

SNOW 15 INCHES DEEP

Five Inches Of Snow Reported From Defiance, Ohio.

Chicago, April 18.—Illinois and Indiana were the heaviest sufferers from the storm of Saturday and the freezing weather that still prevails, of any states of the middle-west, reports received here today indicate. Crops in many sections of these states were virtually destroyed.

Gardens and fruits in Illinois together with some growing crops, were badly damaged and in some places replanting will be necessary. A blanket of snow and ice covered large areas where crops already were considerably advanced.

In Indiana practically the entire fruit crop and much of the clover and wheat were destroyed in several counties, according to reports. The heaviest loss was in the northern section of the state. Crop damage in Indiana will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars experts estimate.

A blanket of snow 15 inches deep that covered southern Wisconsin is believed to have prevented extensive crop damage in that state. The wheat crop it is believed will be benefited by the moisture.

Considerable snow and freezing temperature is reported from Iowa but it is not believed that field crops in that state were badly damaged. Some damage was done to early fruit, however, by frost and high winds.

Fruit trees beginning to bloom are said to have been damaged in the central and northern sections of Michigan but crop damage on the whole in that state is reported not to have been extensive.

Defiance, O., April 18.—Five inches of snow fell in Defiance Sunday. Peaches, cherries, gooseberries, currants were damaged by freezing in various parts of the county last night.

To Break Ground For New Site of Osborn On May 1

Actual Work of Mammoth Undertaking Soon To Start.

Will Require Two and One Half Years To Complete Plans.

Work on the two and one-half year venture of removing the entire village of Osborn from its present to its new site, will be started with the breaking of ground about May 1, according to Attorney Morris D. Rice, one of the prime movers in the Osborn Removal Company.

The new site will comprise 129 acres and the heart of the new village will lie within a quarter of a mile of the tracks of the Ohio Electric Company and the Big Four railroad, thus giving the village excellent transportation facilities.

The first work of laying out the new village will be on the lots and streets. A few of the more substantial buildings, including the hotel, will be moved bodily to the new site, most of the store buildings and homes will be torn down and rebuilt.

Expenditures totalling nearly a half million dollars will be made in rebuilding the village, it is said. A new water works plant will be built and arrangements have already been made with the Dayton Power & Light Company, to furnish the village with electricity.

Two and one-half years will be required to complete the village, according to present plans.

Postpone Final Decision To U. S. Note Until June.

London, April 18.—The allies have said a demand to the German government for the transfer of a billion gold marks (normally $250,000,000) constituting German gold reserve from Berlin to Cologne banks for "safer keeping."

The foreign office which made this news public today, said the government would refuse the demand.

Offer Reward For
YOUTHFUL BANDITS

Chicago, April 18.—Two thousand dollars reward was outstanding today for the capture and conviction of two youthful bandits who shot and robbed Herman Rabey, auditor of the hotel Lesale garage. The bandits obtained $2,800. The robbery, one of the most daring committed here recently, was staged almost under the eaves of the city hall.

Chief Powers said Thursday morning that only the engine was standing on the crossing and the blocking of same was pure negligence.

QUOTA FAR EXCEEDED.

Washington, April 18.—Subscriptions for treasury certificates of indebtedness, dated April 15 and maturing in October, totaled $320,036,000, and the amount allotted was $190,511,500. Secretary Andrew W. Mellon announced last night. The amount offered was $150,000,000, and ten of the Federal reserve districts oversubscribed or equalled their quota.

COST OF FOOD IS ONE PER CENT LOWER

Washington, April 18.—The cost of food to the average family declined one percent in March as compared with February, according to a report by the bureau of labor statistics today. The report shows that 29 food commodities out of 45 which are used as the basis of computation by the bureau showed a decrease in price. The greatest decline was 13 percent in the price of eggs.

Delegates to the annual convention of the Ohio State Automobile Association, which is to be held Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Sinton, Cincinnati under the auspices of the Cincinnati Motor Club, will be selected at a meeting of the directors of the Greene County Automobile Club to be held at the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Member of the various committees are also asked to be present at the meeting. The local Club is entitled to about four delegates to the convention at present.

TO NAME DELEGATES TO AUTO CONVENTION

Cleveland, O., April 18.—Claude Hage, clerk at the Pennsylvania hotel, fears his "lucky piece," given him 15 years ago, has lost its efficacy. Anyhow, a robber who last night held him up, together with two guests, took it as well as his watch and $22. He also got $35 besides from the others. When arriving guests gave the alarm the robber said:

"My party is getting too large" and left, while policemen held up armed guests who sought to stop him.

President Comes Out Flatly as Favoring Project As Soon As Peace Has Been Declared With Germany.

ULSTER'S NEW LEADER

Sir James Craig, recently installed as Premier of Ulster. Sir James succeeded Sir Edward Carson, who for eleven years directed the activities of the Ulster Unionist Party. Sir James has been a member of the Imperial Parliament since 1906. He had long been the lieutenant of his predecessor, Sir Edward, and became prominent during the Home Rule crisis, which was suspended by the dramatic intervention of the World War. He was made a baronet in 1918 for war services, served in both the South African and World Wars, and has occupied three ministerial posts.

Theories Referred To.

Certain of the theories advanced in the American note of Dec. 6, last, are referred to in the Japanese reply of Feb. 26, as "extraordinary even unreasonable in which no one would be likely to concur."

Another line of argument pursued in the same American note leads to a conclusion which the Japanese government characterizes as "wholly at variance with the facts and cannot be thought by any one to be convincing."

To this Secretary of State Hughes referred on April 5, rejecting the Japanese contentions in their entirety and setting forth that the treaty of Versailles and associated powers whose many surrendered her possessions in the Pacific to the allied and associated powers.

"It will not be questioned," said the note, "that one of the principal allied and associated powers in whose favor Germany renounced her rights and titles, is the United States."

Neither the supreme council nor the League of Nations, Secretary Hughes stated, has any right whatsoever to speak for the United States with respect to Yap or any other matter.

Began on November 9.

The correspondence began on Nov. 9, last with the dispatch by the state department of a brief cablegram setting forth that it was the understanding of this government that President Wilson had made reservations at the peace conference concerning the island of Yap, looking to its internationalization for cable purposes.

This was followed on Nov. 19, ten days later, by a brief reply from Tokyo stating that the matter already had been definitely decided by the allied supreme council, and that the Japanese government "would not be able to consent to any proposition which reversing the decision of the supreme council, would exclude the island of Yap from the territory committed to their charge."

Both of these communications were very brief.

A few weeks later on Dec. 6, the American state department replied to the Japanese message with a 1,500 word note, setting forth in detail this government's understanding of the Yap affair. It stated at length that President Wilson at the peace conference had made repeated objections to the award of Yap to Japan, and that it was his understanding as well as the understanding of the United States that the matter was left open for future negotiation.

It was further pointed out that as a result of President Wilson's reservations, the final memorandum on mandates drawn up by the council on May 7, 1919, awarded Japan "certain" and not "all" of the former German possessions north of the equator. This note of Dec. 6, concluded with this passage:

GIANT AIRSHIPS WILL FLY FROM NEW YORK TO PARIS IN 14 HOURS

Paris, April 18.—Paris to New York in 14 hours is not only a possibility but a scientific probability within a few months according to the Italian engineer Vaugean who has completed plans on behalf of Ricci Brothers of Naples for the construction of a commercial air liner on a new principle.

The characteristics of the future air colossus construction of which has already been started at the Ricci workshops at Posillipo, will be as follows: Measuring 31 yards long the bag will contain 42,000 cubic yards of non-inflammable gas and the propelling force will be no less than 750 horse power.

Other details are that the airship can itself construct a shelter, thus dispensing with hangars, can rise and descend vertically, can outride a storm on the surface of the sea and will be provided with engines which will obtain part of their motive power from the air itself.

Each ship so constructed will carry 500 passengers first class and 350 second, beside 800 tons of freight. Average speed will be more than 100 miles an hour. The passenger division of the air liner will be on a sumptuous scale like that of ocean greyhounds and will include bathroom, barber shop, ballroom, tearoom, restaurant, bar and promenade deck.

The Ricci Brothers state that the invention is no wild dream but has so good a chance of success that they are spending $4,000,000 lire on the first vessel and are prepared if it fulfills expectations to build twelve others whereupon to establish regular passenger service between New York and Paris, Rome, London and Berlin.

Prices will be actually cheaper than those on first-class ships. The owners are considering charging $50 each for ordinary cabins, meals included.

MRS. MARIA CROUSE DIES ON MONDAY

Mrs. Maria Crouse, 94, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Andrew, three miles west of Cedarville on the Columbus pike, at 3:30 o'clock Monday morning. Had she lived until next May 5, she would have been 95 years of age.

Mrs. Crouse is survived by two sons and one daughter, Mrs. Andrews, whom whom she made her home, Frank Crouse of Arcola, Ill., and Charles Crouse of Frankton, Ind. Funeral services will be held at the late home Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and interment will be made in Massies Creek Cemetery.

WILL CHANGE DATE OF WEEKLY SHOOT

The weekly trap shoot at the gun club of the Xenia Country Club will be held on Wednesday afternoon instead of Thursday afternoons from now on.

The weekly shoot has been a Thursday afternoon feature for several weeks, with the plan in view, however, of changing to whatever afternoon local merchants should decide to hold their weekly half-holiday on during the summer months.

The change to Wednesday at this time was made because of a number of registered shoots held in other cities with which the local shoot conflicted. The weekly shoots have been drawing a number of sportsmen when the weather is good. More than twenty gunmen were at the club the week before the last the bad weather last Thursday, cutting down the number of shooters.

SOLDIERS RECEIVE WORST OF FIGHT WITH BILLIARD CUES

Washington, C. H., April 18.—Four or five soldiers from Camp Sherman and two or three local men became involved in a lively fight at Willis pool room between 7 and 8 Thursday evening, which is said to have resulted in the soldiers being badly worsted when billiard cues were brought into play and heads were cracked in real earnest.

The trouble seems to have been a continuation of a fight which is said to have occurred at Greenfield a few nights ago, and in which the local men are said to have gotten the worst of the fray. When trouble was renewed in this city the local men proceeded to even up the scores by applying billiard cues, it is claimed.

BEAUTY CHATS

SUMMER HATS

It is a little too early yet to tell exactly what our summer hats will be like, but from all indications they will be sensible and at the same time artistic. The exaggerated style does not seem to be gaining favor, and so far no freak hats have appeared.

This is always cheerful to contemplate because there are so many women who are extremely intelligent on all subjects but that of millinery. It is much more important to choose a hat than to choose a dress. Yet many women know what type of dress is becoming to them who do not know the sort of hat to buy.

Here are a few general hints:—If you have a very long nose or a very small one, choose hats with moderately wide brims? When I say a small nose, I mean one that is so small it is insignificant. A well-shaped small nose will look best if the hat brim is short or if a toque is worn.

The small round turbans that cover the forehead are not becoming unless the hair is dressed quite far down over the ears. Hats with turned up brims should only be worn by very young women unless the brim turns up so sharply that the effect is mature rather than youthful. Hats that turn sharply back from the face should only be worn by those with good profiles.

A great many of the newest hats are being made of shiny materials—waxed ribbon and waxed straw, for instance. These take a good complexion. If yours is not good, choose material or straw of a softer texture.

HORSEMAN CALLED BY DEATH; AGED 57

Turner Darnell, well-known horseman, and father of Dr. W. T. Darnell, formerly of this city, died suddenly at his home in Wilmington at ten o'clock Friday night on the occasion of his fifty-seventh birthday. He was stricken with apoplexy and died before medical aid could be summoned.

Mr. Darnell was a lover of good horseflesh and for years owned a string of race horses, which made themselves prominent in the half-mile circuits over the state. His horses in recent years have been trained by Colby Turner, the armless driver, who made many records with products of the Darnell stable.

The horseman was born in Salem N. C., but had lived in Wilmington for 50 years. He had been in the racing game for 20 years. Surviving are his wife and three children, Dr. W. T. Darnell of Middletown, Mrs. Arthur Fisher and Vernon Darnell of Wilmington. Funeral services were held at the home on South street, Wilmington at two o'clock Monday afternoon in charge of Rev. John Coleman and interment made in Sugar Grove Cemetery.

The Wilmington News-Journal says of Mr. Darnell: "He was one of the most courteous colored men in Wilmington, known and liked by a wide circle of friends and his sudden death will bring grief to many people in Clinton county and in the racing fraternity of the United States."

It gave me a splendid appetite and I could enjoy a good hearty meal, even things I hadn't dared touch before, without any fear of it troubling me.

"Then I had the influenza and became dreadfully sick and weak, but my stomach kept in good order and it only took four bottles of Tanlac to build me up again to where I'm now feeling better than at any time I can remember. I have gained eleven pounds in weight, too, and words can't express the gratitude I feel toward Tanlac. I keep Tanlac in the house all the time now, for I know it is a medicine that can be depended upon."

You should tone up the scalp in some way either by massaging it every night until the scalp is loose from the head, or have the vibrator used on it—which is, after all, another method of increasing the circulation in the scalp.

Pals—Perhaps your friend is still very young and has not had time to complete her development, in which case she can overcome her sensitivity by having her dresses made full enough to obscure this flatness.

Most women with flat busts overcome the defect by developing their chests instead, and have their dresses planned so that no one ever notices this deficiency.

BOARD ASKS WALTZ TO STAY IN XENIA AT SPECIAL MEETING

The Xenia Board of Education at a special meeting held at noon Monday, asked Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz not to leave Xenia.

The action of the board was taken after Mr. Waltz had presented to them the offer of the Mt. Vernon, Ohio Board of Education, asking him to come to that city as Superintendent at an increase over his salary here.

Mr. Waltz presented the matter to the Board asking the members for an expression on it, according to J. W. Santmyer, president of the Board, without expressing himself as to whether he wished to be released from his position here or not. He left the matter entirely up to the Board it is said.

Mr. Waltz came here two years ago on a five year contract, his salary being arranged on a sliding scale. He received an offer from Mt. Vernon Board of Education of $4,000 a year and a four year contract several days ago.

Saturday Mr. Waltz went to Mt. Vernon, and it is understood that he told them he would not come for less than $4,200, expecting that they would not pay that amount. Monday, he received word from Mt. Vernon asking him to sign a contract at that amount, and he put the question up to the local Board immediately.

He will abide by the decision of the Board and remain here to fulfill his contract, it is said.

MAY ERECT A NEW CENTRALIZED SCHOOL IN BEAVERCREEK

The erection of a new centralized school building in Beavercreek town ship instead of the improvements and erection of new one room buildings as planned is expected to grow out of agitation started at the meeting of the Board of Education Friday night against the expenditure of money to repair the one room buildings and erect new schools of that kind.

Monday petitions were being circulated asking everyone in the township to protest the expenditure and to favor the erection of a centralized building. The agitation was started when the architects employed by the Board presented plans and estimates showing that an expenditure of $73,000 will be necessary to improve the one room school system in accordance with the demands of necessity and of the state building code.

The centralized school plan was placed before the voters some time ago by the Board of Education but was voted down. The state department of building inspection however, ordered radical changes in the present one room buildings now in use, the installation of better ventilating and sanitary conditions, the erection of new one room buildings. Necessity demanded the erection of an addition to the Alpha High School.

To do this work, the architects estimates showed that an expenditure of $73,000 is necessary. At the meeting Friday night, a delegation led by Arthur Shoup, of Beavercreek township, protested any immediate step on the part of the Board to carry out these plans and requested that the Board allow time in which petitions can be taken. It is understood that those favoring the centralized plan expect to call on every voter in the township.

It is said by those favoring the centralized plan that a handsome new centralized school with all modern school advantages can be erected for about twice the sum that would be expended for the reconstruction of the one room buildings. It is understood that the Board has favored the centralized building all the time, but in making plans for improvements of the one room buildings was merely abiding by the decision of the voters when the centralized school proposition was presented to them some time ago.

FARM BUREAU ENDS CAMPAIGN TO GET CORN FOR EUROPEANS

The Greene County Farm Bureau wound up its campaign to collect Greene County's share of the 500,000 bushels of corn pledged from Ohio for European and near East Relief Saturday.

The last of the cash donations pledged in the county were turned in at that time, and County Agent Ford S. Prince turned over the money to the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation to purchase corn with to swell the quota. The corn collected in this county was all shipped some time ago.

At present there were 5,848 bushels of corn shipped from Greene County in especially loaded cars, consigned to the seaboard, where the grain will be shipped to Europe. In money, $39 was collected, which will be devoted to the same purpose.

CONDUCT CAMPAIGN FOR C. OF C. MEMBERS

A quiet campaign for more members of the Chamber of Commerce, is being conducted under the direction of Secretary F. J. Slackford.

The membership committee will meet Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce, at the call of the Secretary.

DRAGGED 100 FEET

Sistersville, W. Va.—Caught in the reins, C. E. Chadderton, prominent local contractor, was dragged nearly 100 feet, but only slightly hurt, when the wagon on which he was riding overturned while rounding a sharp curve, causing the team of horses attached to the vehicle to run away.

COUNTY BRANCHES OF RED CROSS TO SEND MEMBERS TO MEETING

NO WOMAN DRAWN FOR DUTY ON JURY DURING MAY TERM

The May term, Grand and Pettit Juries, have been drawn from the Jury wheel, the Grand Jury to meet May 10.

Not a woman was drawn in either of the jury lists drawn. Eight men drawn on the Grand Jury are from Xenia city, and the other seven names are of men living in the county.

Twenty names were drawn for the petit jury, four of the men whose names were drawn, being Xenia. The Grand Jury will be composed of the following:

Frank McCurran, Xenia first ward.

Lewis, Peters, Jefferson township G. H. Fogg, Miami township W. H. Harner, Beavercreek township

De Witt Batdorf, Bath township Arthur Whalen, Xenia first ward J. A. Beatty, Xenia second ward Thomas Stevenson, Xenia township

William Ellis, Xenia fourth ward J. W. Faulkner, Xenia third ward John Ary, Xenia third ward H. L. Binder, Xenia first ward Frank Berryhill, Sugarcreek township

Jacob S. Smith, Xenia first ward A. C. Grieves, New Jasper twp. The petit jury names are as follows:

C. P. Beal, Sugarcreek township J. Earl McClellan, Beaverwood

H. H. Dice, Xenia third ward W. O. Bullock, Silvercreek

L. H. Atkins, Xenia second ward Isaac Gerard, Jefferson

F. M. Burrell, Sugarcreek twp.

W. O. Collett, Ross township O. D. Tobias, Beavercreek township

Arthur Cumins, Ross township Owen Stutsman, Xenia township Eli Burrell, Xenia, third ward John R. Beacham, Xenia third ward

C. M. Austin, Sugarcreek twp. ship

D. M. Kennon, Cedarville township

Paul F. Beam, Spring Valley township

John G. Buick, Miami township Thomas W. St. John, Cedarville, township

Michael N. Ault, Miami township.

Mr. Confer said the woman represented herself as soliciting advertising on a card giving weekly church announcements, and she showed him space supposed to have been purchased by the Xenia Caney Kitchen and Floyd Anderson, florist. Suspicious after he had paid her the $3, he inquired of the Candy Kitchen and of Mr. Anderson and found that neither had subscribed to such advertising.

Monday morning, Mr. Confer complained of the actions of the woman to the Police. Later on he met her on the street, and she immediately handed him the $3, saying "If you let me alone, I'll let you alone." It is alleged that she also swindled the Peters Dry Cleaning Company and the Philadelphia Battery Station, out of similar amounts, which she has not returned.

Secretary F. J. Slackford of the Chamber of Commerce interested himself in the case Monday afternoon as members of his organization are protected from fake advertising schemes by a system of endorsements for all worthy advertising schemes, and members are asked not to subscribe to advertising ventures without asking first for the endorsement card.

It is believed however, that no members of the Chamber were caught by the woman.

THAT SORE BONE OF CONTENTION. THE "NATIONAL AGREEMENT," ABROGATED BY THE RAIL LABOR BOARD.

"There's tricks in all trades but ours" is a motto which gives the inference that trickery is the universal practice. Apropos of this, you know it is charged that the trouble with our railroads dates back to the time when they were under government control, or on the last legs of such control, when by sharp practice certain leaders of the employes wrested from McAdoo what has since been known as the "National Agreement" as to wages.

This "Agreement," the railroad owners claim, is so wholly in favor of the employees, and so radical in terms against the roads, that it stands as the main reason why the railroads have been wholly unable to make their income meet their expenses.

Illustrations of this, as given by different roads, have been published—and incidentally the country has been asked what it proposed doing about this crisis in our transportation affairs.

But this National agreement defining working conditions for employees on all American railroads formerly under the Federal Railroad Administration were last Thursday ordered abrogated, effective July 1, 1921, by the United States Railroad Labor Board, which has been in session in Chicago for about two months past.

While the decision did not specifically say so, members of the board said all disputes as to rules and working conditions automatically were referred back to individual conferences between each individual road and its employees.

The decision affected all railroad employees except those in train service, who are under separate agreements between the individual railroads and the four big brotherhoods.

In connection with the conference negotiations, the board laid down a set of sixteen principles to serve as a foundation for any rules which may be agreed to in conference. The present general rules hearing before the Labor Board which has been in progress since January 10, will continue until both sides have completed their testimony, following which the board "will promulgate such rules as it determines just and reasonable as soon after July 1, 1921, as is reasonably possible and will make them effective as of July 1, 1921."

The sixteen principles outlined by the board were drawn up by Henry T. Hunt, of the Public Group, and upheld the right of the employees to organize for lawful purposes, the right to negotiate through representatives of their own choosing, the right of seniority and the principle of the eight-hour day.

It was specified that "eight hours' work must be given for eight hours' pay." Espionage should not be practised by either side, the decision said, and employees' representatives should have the right to make an agreement applying to all employees in the craft or class of the representatives.

The board's decision came unexpectedly in the middle of the hearing on the justness and reasonableness of the existing rules and opened a way to speedy conclusion of the whole controversy.

The fight over national agreements was begun immediately after the return of the railroads to private ownership March 1, 1920, but consideration of rules was postponed by the Labor Board when it was formed on April 15, 1920, because of the urgency of the wage question at that time.

In setting July 1 as the date for terminating the national agreements, however, the board declared in its decision today that it "reserves the right to terminate its direction of decision No. Two at an earlier date than July 1, with regard to any class of employees if it shall have reason to believe that such class of employees is unduly delaying the progress of the negotiations" to be entered into by the conference of managements and employees. It also reserves the right to stay the termination of the agreements if it believes any carrier is unduly delaying negotiations.

So far as can be seen by an "outsider," the sixteen Principles or Rules laid down by the Rail Labor Board to guide the Roads and the Employees in settlement of difficulties in the future, are just and considerate for both sides. Rule six provides for an "open shop," that is that no discrimination shall be practiced by managements as between members and non-members of organizations.

We are rather disposed to feel a little proud that these new "Regulations" which take the place of the objectionable "National Agreements," are the product of a gentleman whose ancestors were Xenians, Mr. Henry T. Hunt. All old Xenians know of the relationship of the Hunt family of Cincinnati to the old-time Galloway family of Xenia.

If one was allowed to reminisce, what a story could be told of this gallant old Galloway family whose ancient home was the block just north of the Steele building which has just been taken over by Mr. Steele.

LAYS BLAME ON MIDDLEMEN—DAVIS SAYS THEY ARE LEVYING TOLL OF 23 PER CENT ON VALUE OF FOOD.

Middlemen now are levying a toll of 23 per cent on the value of all food and most necessities used throughout the entire United States according to price data in possession of Secretary Davis.

Facts collected by the labor department emphasize the exposure made by President Harding in his message to congress that drops in prices to consumers were slower than drops in prices of basic materials. Secretary Davis is ready to lay his information before congress if an investigation is undertaken as requested by the President.

Davis' data shows that the consumer is paying a level of about 58 per cent above the 1913 prices for such things as meats, eggs, butter, coffee, tea, lard, flour, milk and cheese. The wholesale dealer is paying about 50 per cent above the 1913 level for these things. The farmer gets an average of 29 per cent higher than in 1913.

Re-consignments, high freight rates and the open price system of price fixing are responsible for the discrepancy between the prices paid by the consumer and those received by the producer, according to a study of the problem made for Harding by the federal trade commission. Re-consignment is the practice of re-selling food and other commodities in the railroad car before they are unloaded at the point to which billed, in one investigation, the trade commission found that a car of coal was re-sold twelve times between the mine and the wholesaler. Each seller boosted the price to make a profit.

JACK SPRATT AND HIS WIFE AND THE CLEAN PLATTER

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Arrangements are being made for starting the Ohio Cordage Mill and within a week or two a force will be engaged there, in the manufacture of binder twine. The starting of the Ohio Mill will materially aid in helping the labor boom along.

The manufacturers we have are the life of Xenia. What we need is more manufacturers. We have a number of splendid buildings, suitable for the purposes. There is the Field building, the paper mill and the oil mill; with a railroad switch to same. It would be a fine thing for the town if the wheels would go around in each.

At a meeting of the Xenia School Board, last night the sites for the two new school buildings were selected. The site for the new building on Orient Hill will be at the corner of Washington and Monroe streets. For the building in the western part of the city it was decided to retain the site of the present West Market street, building, together with some additional purchase of property for the room for the new structure.

M. W. Monroe, prominent railroad man of this city, was in Washington, C. H., today to inspect the Central Heating Station and learn something about the system of heating any number of buildings with one plant. Mr. Monroe will talk it up to the Xenia people, a franchise having already been granted and a company of local capitalists to put in a plant is being planned.

The manufacturers we have are the life of Xenia. What we need is more manufacturers. We have a number of splendid buildings, suitable for the purposes. There is the Field building, the paper mill and the oil mill; with a railroad switch to same. It would be a fine thing for the town if the wheels would go around in each.

Miss Fairfax, whose successful stage plays prior to her affiliation with motion pictures gained her wide prominence as a playwright, has given the screen many of its most popular photoplays via Marshall Neilan and Famous Players-Lasky. For the stage she created such metropolitan successes as "The Builders," first produced at the Astor theater in New York, "The Chaperon" with Maxine Elliott, "Mrs. Crew's Career" in collaboration with Winston Churchill and others.

The initial independent production by Miss Fairfax for the screen will be entitled "The Lying Truth," her own original story. In the leading roles will appear such popular players as Marjorie Daw, Pat O'Malley, Tully Marshall, Noah Beery, Claire Mc-Dowell, Charles Mailes, George Dromgold and Robert Brower. Hugh McCullough will co-direct with Miss Fairfax.

BRYANT WASHBURN TO TOUR

Bryant Washburn is soon to tour the principal cities and appear personally at theaters showing his new production, "The Road to London."

FRANK KEENAN AND "RIP VAN WINKLE"

Frank Keenan shows no sign of returning to the screen. He is preparing a stage revival of "Rip Van Winkle" in California.

BESSIE LOVE WITH BOSWORTH

Bessie Love is journeying forth on the first sea-going trip of her five-year film career. She has been induced to become a member of Hobart Bosworth's company for one picture, and will join them at the Santa Cruz Islands, to play the leading ingenue part opposite Bosworth in his forthcoming release "The Sea Lion."

THAT'S GIVING HIM THE OIL

Albert Cutler, the professional nurser of the ivories, met a fellow yesterday who had been South for the Winter.

This bird talked nothing except the three-cushion billiard shark he met in the pool room of the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans.

He was the greatest player I ever saw in my life," piped the sunburned traveler. "He could do anything but make those balls whiz! Gosh, couldn't he play! And, say, couldn't he leave them SAFE!"

Cutler smiled and asked: "He could leave them safe, eh?"

"Say," chirped the enthusiastic boaster, "I was playing with him in one game and he left them so safe that I couldn't hit EITHER BALL."

JIM CORBETT, THE CHILD WONDER

Every once in a while you'll hear some fellow say: "I saw that old guy Corbett on the street yesterday and on the square, he looks like a kid."

For a bloke on the wrongside of fifty the ex-champ would fool you. No one was ever more shocked than was Mrs. Georges Carpenter, however, upon giving James J. the up and down.

Jim met Georges and his wife when they came to America last year. Mrs. Carpenter was surprised when she was told that Corbett was the former heavyweight champion of the world. She turned to the interpreter and said, "Dear me, Oh dear, he's so young."

The interpreter told Corbett and he almost died laughing. He was so swelled up that he rushed back to Mrs. Carpenter and, knowing that she didn't understand a word of English, talked to her anyway. Jim waved his hands and said to her in broken English (making it easier for her to understand, of course), "was the boxer champ-een of ZE WORLD before your husband is even born."

TO SHOW RAINBOW FILM AT WASHINGTON

Washington, C. H., April 18—Six thousand feet of film, showing the Rainbow Division in action at the front, and taken by the official government war photographer is to be shown at the Palace Theater under auspices of the American Legion.

The picture is now being booked and as soon as the advance agent arrives here the arrangements will be completed.

The film is the choice part of 12,000 feet in which every unit of the famous 42nd is shown. Those in charge of booking the film here state that, according to their information, local men are easily recognizable.

Practical Business Talks

CO-OPERATION.

There is more than one kind of harmony in business organizations.

One kind has a tinge of the mollycoddle and the milksop. Simply because men like each other is no reason why they can work effectively together.

Be able to work with others, no matter whether you happen to like them or not.

A little friction is a good thing. You can get a quicker polish with sandpaper than with velvet.

Do things you don't like to do. It is good for you. Work with people you don't like. It will be a bracing, stimulating experience.

No matter how much other people's personalities may jar on you, if you are all intent upon the same goal, all working earnestly for the same object, you will find that there will be harmony—harmony of the more useful sort.

The business world does not need pollyannas and pussyfooters. It demands red-blooded, earnest, active fighters.

"For I would fight if I would reign Increase my courage, Lord."

If you keep busy at your work, fighting for your firm, active in your employer's interests, you will have little time to think about the irritating faults of your associates.

"An association of men," said Thomas Jefferson, "who will not quarrel with one another is a thing which never yet existed."

Some organizations use up all their energy in an effort to be harmonious. Waste of effort. Busy yourself with getting the thing done. Sparks may fly at times, but there will be real action, production and accomplishment too.

APRIL DAYS.

April birds are sweetly calling in the shadow of the wood. April rains are softly falling where they'll do the greatest good. April fields are brighter, greener, than they ever were before, and the grouchy man is meaner than the meanest kind of bore. One may grumble in November when the winds are bleak and chill, one may knock in December when the snow is on the hill, but when April skies are glowing in the warmest tints of blue, smiles ecstatic should be showing on the whole blazed human crew. One may kick in sultry summer, sweating in the baking grad, when the long day is a hummer and the night is twice as bad, when the cloudless sky is brassy, and the whole world pants with heat—one may then get pert and sassy, and denounce things and repeat. But when April, clothed in beauty, shows the finer curves of Spring, he is nutty and galooty who declines to smile and sing. He is fit for foulest treason and for stratagem and spoil, if he scorns the finest season that has been designed by Hoyle. There should be no grouchy faces in the surging ranks of men, when fair April, with her graces, makes the old world young again.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Opal E. Palmer were held at the late home in Old Town, Saturday morning at ten o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. Moon assisted by Rev. Griswold.

A quartette composed of Miss Sawdener, Mrs. Dice, Melvin and Owen Swadener sang three hymns, "Somewhere," "Going Down the Valley" and "Jesus, Pilot Me". The pall bearers were Earl and Clement Palmer, Wilbur Gallagher and Loy Bragg. The remains were taken to Washington C. H. for burial.

PROSECUTOR CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF AN AGREEMENT

Prosecutor Donald Kirkpatrick of Clark county is charged with violation of an official agreement in causing the indictment of Mrs. Monett Snowden on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Thelma Keller of Springfield, in a statement issued by Thomas D. Hodge, attorney for the indicted woman.

Attorney Hodge claims that in a signed letter to him, the Prosecutor promised that if Mrs. Snowden would plead guilty to the charge of shooting with intent to kill before Judge Geiger that as long as he was in office she would not be prosecuted on any other charge. At that time the Keller woman was still living. She later died and the grand jury indicted Mrs. Snowden for murder, in violation of the promise of the Prosecutor, according to Attorney Hodge. The prosecutor kept the incident secret until Saturday.

OHIO CONFECTIONERS TO MEET TWO DAYS IN STATE CAPITAL

Columbus, April 18.—So elaborate and extensive have plans for the exhibit of the products of the confectionery manufacturers of Ohio become that two entire floors in the Chittenden have been engaged in which to display the wares. Original plans included but one floor of exhibits.

The exhibition which is the first affair of its kind ever staged in this country will be April 27 and 28. Jobbers are coming from all parts of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and Michigan, reports W. S. Eberle of the Snyder-Chaffee Co.

During the exhibition a two-day conference between manufacturers and jobbers will be held.

MILLER KILLED BY FLY WHEEL AT GREENFIELD

Washington C. H., April 18—One of the most tragic deaths ever occurring in Greenfield happened at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning when Andy Winfough, miller, was caught in the belt of a fly wheel at the mill and was instantly killed.

According to word received by Case, Winfough was wearing a coat which caught in the belt of the fly wheel. Death was instantaneous.

COUNTY MAN MAY BE NEXT WARDEN OF OHIO STATE PEN

A Greene County man may be the next Warden of the Ohio State Penitentiary.

It is whispered about among friends of George Woods, of Bellbrook, that he is a candidate for the position, and that he has an inside track in the race for the appointment.

Mr. Woods' smilingly denies that he is contemplating leaving the farm near Bellbrook for the position as chief executive of the penal institution, where he was located for a number of years as Deputy Warden. When he retired from the public service, he came to his farm near Bellbrook where he has since been located. It is possible that the political plum tree is still buzzing around the Bellbrook farm however, and friends of Mr. Woods believe he has been bitten. Local friends of the former Deputy will be boosters for his appointment as Warden of the institution, and it is believed that the Greene County man will have in side position when Governor Davis makes the appointment.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spell gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primer Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

LOCATE MISSING PAINTING IN WEST

Tulsa, Okla., April 18.—A painting said to be "Rubens' Descent from the Cross," for which a search has been conducted for several years since it disappeared from a cathedral in Belgium during the German invasion, was said to have been found in the possession of R. L. Bolin, of Tulsa, an apprentice tool dresser, recently of the A. E. F. mounted police who brought the painting here with two others which he purchased "for a song" at Baure, Germany, while serving abroad he said.

The picture was identified by Charles W. Thurmand, who said he was a New York art connoisseur.

Bolin had placed the paintings in an art shop, not knowing their value.

LEGION WILL FORM BASE BALL TEAM

All ex-soldiers, sailors or Marines in the county who wish to play baseball will be organized into an American Legion baseball nine under the name of Joseph P. Foody Post No. 95, of this city.

The executive committee of the local post has named John Blackburn, as manager of the team, and he is organizing his players now. All men who served in some branch of the service during the late unpleasantness, will be given a try-out, and all such candidates, are asked to report to Manager Blackburn at once.

The team will play weekly ball, and Manager Blackburn is attempting to secure Killcare Park for all Home games. The team will also play road games, it is said. Last year a team representing Foody Post made a good showing for itself during the season, but it is hoped by drawing material from all over the county, to get together a much better organization this year.

Chapter 18

"You eat, Margaret, Don't wait for us," I hastily broke in.

"I prefer to eat with my brother, when I am his guest." Keith had seated himself, and there was nothing for me to do but follow his example. But I was so disappointed I couldn't keep the tears back, although I tried desperately.

Margaret took the best seat: in fact, the only one that commanded a good view of the entire stage.

Then she made Keith sit in the next best seat. When he objected, she said peevishly:

"I can't talk to you unless you sit beside me," and then she gave him a loving look.

Sallie said it made her sick, that Margaret looked like a "dying calf" when she gazed at Keith in that fashion.

But he sat down, patting his sister's hand as he did so.

My evening was spoiled for me before it had commenced. I made Sallie to the third best seat, while I sat back where I couldn't see anything save as I stretched my neck until it ached.

During intermission Margaret and Keith talked constantly, while Sallie and I agreed that we liked orchestra seats much better than to sit in a box, and that we both hated Margaret.

Beatrice would not have encouraged me in my dislikes of my husband's sister, but Sallie never could brook unfairness in anyone. So she only fanned the intense dislike I felt.

After the play was over Keith took us to a gay restaurant for supper. I danced well, and loved the exercise. So when the dancing commenced I said to Keith:

"Come on dear. Let's not miss this one for the sake of food."

He started to rise when Margaret said:

"I shall have to ask you to wait until we have our supper. Keith, You know I hate cold food."

Once more she had attracted Keith's attention to me, to my disgust.

"Do either stop crying or we will go home," he whispered crossly.

He next danced a fox trot with Sallie. I tried to compose myself, and powdered my nose and dabbed a bit around my eyes hoping to hide the traces of my emotion.

"You'll dance the next one with me, won't you?" I whispered as he sat down. Margaret heard and said:

"Come, Keith, dear it is late and I am tired. We must go home now."

He rose at once, and so we all followed suit.

In the darkness of the car my tears fell unheeded. To love to dance as I did and not have a single dance to that wonderful music was more than any girl could stand.

When we reached home I rushed upstairs without a word, and without even removing my hat I threw myself on the couch and sobbed unrestrainedly.

"Don't cry like that, they will hear you," Sallie pleaded.

"I don't care. I wanted to dance and she planned it purposely so I couldn't."

"Who planned it?" I had not heard Keith come in.

"Margaret!" I replied sobbing wildly.

"She said she wanted to eat when I asked you to dance, then she took you away from me, and then asked to come home, and I love to dance so!"

"When you learn to be fair to Margaret, and not behave like a cry baby I will talk with you. Good night Sallie."

He left me without another word, while Sallie fairly quivered with anger.

Some FACTS About

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921 and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Delivered to Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883	57,208
FEBRUARY	35,305	63,603
MARCH	61,886	87,221
Total Production	127,074	Total Retail Sales 208,032

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks.

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.
